DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "first light emitting and second light emitting" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 19, 25, 27 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hunter et al. (2003/0098828 A1; hereinafter referred to as Hunter).

As to claim 19, Hunter teaches a driving circuit of a self-luminous display apparatus having multiple self-luminous elements constituting each pixel placed like a matrix in a pixel row direction and a pixel line direction and driving a display portion by passing a current between an anode and a cathode of each self-luminous element and thereby emitting light from the pixels (figures 1-4 and page 2, paragraphs 0033-0037), the driving circuit comprising: a first light emitting instrument which has light emitted (figures 3-4, (2)) by each of the self-luminous elements at a first luminance preset correspondingly to image data inputted (figures 3-4, (6)) from outside (figures 1-4, page 1, paragraph 0009-0011, page 2, paragraphs 0033-0038); a second light emitting instrument which has light emitted by each of the self-luminous elements at a second luminance adjusted to suppress the first luminance preset correspondingly to the image data inputted from outside in conformance with light emitting luminance distribution of the pixels in surroundings (figures 1-4, page 1, paragraph 0009-0011, page 2, paragraphs 0033-0038).

As to claim 25, Hunter teaches a switching instrument for the second processing instrument which has operations effected only by the first processing instrument (figures 1-4, page 2, paragraphs 0016-0017, page 2, paragraph 0033, page 3, paragraphs 0040, 0042, and 0046-0048)) .

As to claim 27, Hunter teaches a controller of a self-luminous display apparatus having the driving circuit (figures 1-4 and page 2, paragraphs 0033-0038).

As to Claim 29, Hunter teaches the self-luminous elements are formed or placed in a matrix in a pixel row direction and a pixel line direction (figures 1-4 and page 2, paragraphs 0033-0038).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-18, 20-24, 26, 28 and 30-31 allowed.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Leon et al. (7,355,574) teach an OLED display device.
